Phuket-Ville:

Phuket is among the world's finest beach destinations, with fine white sands, nodding palm trees, glittering seas and lively towns. It has something for any taste and budget, with hundreds of hotels to choose from, a wide choice of dining and partying options. Aside from visiting the fantastic attractions of Thailand's biggest island, you can take an exhilarating speedboat trip to the many nearby tropical paradises, including the famous Phi Phi Islands, or enjoy a serene cruise around the mystical Phang Nga Bay. Phuket is blessed with more than 30 amazing beaches to choose from. Patong Beach, Kata, Karon and Kamala have always been the most popular, but the north of the island reveals some hidden gems for travellers searching for a more romantic atmosphere.

We have compiled over 20 years of experience and detailed research to answer all questions from travellers: Which are the best hotels? Where are the secret beaches? How about the best night markets, nightlife and local Thai food? We've explored every temple, every beach and every market.

Few islands can boast of such an abundance of sandy beaches and clear waters as Phuket. The winding coastal roads along the west coast of this 540-square-km island offer stunning views and easy access to some of the world's finest beaches.

Whether you want to sample the frenetic pace of Patong or find solitude on a remote stretch of sand in the north, Phuket's beaches have it all for the sun seeker. Many also have nearby restaurants or wandering food sellers, so there is no need to interrupt your bronzing for lunch. Just remember to keep applying the sunscreen! The monsoon rains of May-October can bring unpredictable swimming conditions, so heed the posted flag warnings.

With its glittering temples, impressive scenery, idyllic beaches and friendly locals, Phuket Island is immensely rewarding to those who take the time to explore its many attractions. There is something to see for virtually anyone, including nature at its most jaw-dropping and man-made structures at their most intricate and inspiring. Learn something new at the various shows and museums or admire beauty at galleries and viewpoints.

From the southern Phromthep Cape to the top of the island at the Sarasin Bridge, Phuket is packed with new, fascinating and memorable attractions. For your convenience, we have sorted these by area to help you find what there is to see and do immediately around you, wherever you may be on Phuket.

While there's plenty to see and do on Phuket, there are several smaller surrounding islands, each offering unique sights of their own. They are all easily accessible by boat from Phuket, with journey times usually under two hours. Many have excellent snorkelling and diving sites, while others simply offer nice patches of sand on which to spend a quiet day.

To reach them, hire a long-tail boat or charter an island-hopping tour. Some of the islands offer accommodation, which varies from the rustic charm of a bamboo bungalow to the idyllic luxury of extremely exclusive five-star resorts.

For many, the sun, the beach and partying go hand in hand. Phuket's reputation as a partying hotspot is well-deserved, with an international crowd of revelers. With go-go bars, ladyboy cabaret shows, discos and clubs, live bands and international DJs, there is everything which makes Thailand's party scene famous the world over.

While most parts of the island have their own small party scene, the place to be after dark is Bangla Road in Patong, with its bright neon lights, loud music and crowds of young party-lovers. Check out the best on offer below.

Phuket is a shopaholic's paradise! The island has a great variety of shopping, from bustling open-air village food markets, noisy night markets, street stalls and local shops to western-style department stores and upmarket specialist shops. Prices naturally vary, going from amazing bargains to credit card-melting designer labels.

With traditional handicrafts, beautifully-designed clothing, jewellery, antiques, housewares and much more to choose from, the only thing you'll regret about shopping in Phuket is that you didn't bring a bigger suitcase! And you can buy a new one, while you're here, too.

If you love food, you will love Phuket. There are restaurants to suit every taste, serving a huge selection of western and Asian food. The variety of cuisine and dining experiences is one of the major attractions of the island. You can eat breakfast at your hotel, lunch at a local noodle stall, and have dinner with fine wines in a sophisticated air-conditioned restaurant.

While Thai food is world-renowned for its wonderful flavours and fresh ingredients, Phuket is especially famous for its seafood and, you don't have to empty your bank account to enjoy the most sumptuous of dishes. Browse through our location and food guides, or go straight to our handy Restaurant Reviews Guide with contact details and reviews of restaurants all over the island.

Phuket Island is 48km long and 21km across at its widest point, so you're never far from the sea at any given point. The weather is at its best from March to early May and at its wettest from May to October, though mornings and afternoons are still generally sunny and clear. Temperatures tend to be between 25°C on the coolest nights and 33°C on the hottest days.

The basic information, listed below, should be studied in advance of a stay on the island to avoid any nasty surprises. Listed are business hours, practical advice and essential information to make your Phuket stay an optimal one.

This New Year, a special atmosphere is still attached to it...
